Sliding-window mutagenesis across two AP-1 elements matched for chromatin context each bar is one 10 bp window replaced by random bases; height is the predicted loss of accessibility over the surrounding 170 bp